

2013 William V. Moore Student Research Conference

Best Paper Awards

Undergraduate

Best Presentation Awards

First Place: Elizabeth McWhinnie, International Studies, College of Charleston

“Journey for Jackinda: A New Discourse for Environmental Children’s Literature”

Second Place: Elizabeth Conwell, Political Science, College of Charleston

“Blurring the Line: Food Accessibility in Context: A Look at South Carolina and Charleston”

Best Paper Awards

First Place: Emily Gooding, Political Science, College of Charleston

“The Changing Face of Charlotte, NC Politics: The Role of the Latino Community”

Second Place: William Coffman, Political Science, College of Charleston

“Market of Need –NGOs in Southeast Asia”

High School

Best Paper Awards

First Place: Claudia Jos, Academic Magnet High School

“Determining the Influence of Religious Beliefs on Environmental Attitudes”

Second Place: Anna Hodapp, Academic Magnet High School

“The Economic Impact of the Tea Party”