

2018 William V. Moore Student Research
Conference Awards

Best Paper Awards

First Place:

Andre Vanparys: “One Person, One Vote: The Conflict Between Representational and Voter Equality”

Second Place:

Seth Barry-Hinton: “Violence in Political Theory: Towards a New Paradigm”

Third Place:

Olivia Rothstein: “The Interference with Cultural Property as a Political Strategy in the Middle East: An Analysis”

Best Undergraduate Presentation Awards

First Place:

Kacey Hirshfeld: “The Rising Waters of the South Carolina Coast: Where the Public and Policy Meet”

Second Place:

Tanner Hatch: “Emerging From Chaos: A Theoretical Framework for the Outcome of Secessionist Movements”

Third Place:

Deon McCray: “South Carolina: Mapping Psychological Intensity”

Best High School Paper Award

Zachary Kronsberg: “Reforming the Electoral College to Better Represent the Will of the People: Analyzing its Components and Alternatives”